Informe Gratuito de la Carta Natal

Solo encontrarás algunas interpretaciones en este momento (muchos de los factores principales, como el Sol, la Luna, el Ascendente, Mercurio y Venus en los signos y la casa), pero estoy trabajando en agregar más interpretaciones con frecuencia, ¡así que vuelve a consultar aquí de vez en cuando!

Las interpretaciones en el siguiente informe de la carta natal están escritas por mí, Annie, y por lo general son interpretaciones ampliadas que ya se encuentran en este sitio.

*Nota: El informe gratuito de esta página es un informe interpretativo gratuito alternativo que pretende complementar la sección de informes gratuitos de Café Astrology, que sigue siendo totalmente funcional con múltiples informes gratuitos, como natal, tránsitos y compatibilidad.

*Importante: En circunstancias normales, no es necesario que cambies el desplazamiento de la zona horaria que aparece después de introducir tu ubicación de nacimiento. No ajuste el desplazamiento de la zona horaria a menos que sepa con certeza lo que está haciendo, ya que el desplazamiento predeterminado incorpora factores cruciales (como el horario de verano) y, en la mayoría de los casos, es preciso. Véanse también las notas a continuación.

Introducción

Planetas y puntos en los signos

Sol en Tauro 26° 37' 52"

El Sol en la carta muestra nuestro carácter, identidad personal y ego. Representa nuestra voluntad de vivir y nuestra fuerza vital creativa. Al igual que los planetas giran alrededor del Sol en nuestro sistema solar, derivamos nuestro propósito de vida del Sol en nuestras cartas natales. El Sol es nuestro "adulto", la parte de nosotros que censura a nuestro "niño interior", razona las cosas y toma las decisiones finales. El Sol también da pistas sobre nuestra vitalidad general. El Sol nos dirige y puede ser considerado "el jefe" de nuestra carta. Cuando la gente te pregunta "¿Cuál es tu signo?", Tauro sería tu respuesta. Técnicamente, sin embargo, es tu signo solar el que es Tauro.

Tauro es el segundo signo del zodiaco, y con Tauro como tu signo solar, hay algo sustancial y sólido en ti, sin importar lo que el resto de tu carta diga sobre ti. Aunque eres confiable la mayor parte del tiempo, esto se muestra más en el hábito que en la ayuda absoluta. Los nativos de Tauro son personas sensuales, y esto incluye el sexo, pero se extiende a los placeres en todas las áreas: se deleitan con los placeres sensuales de la comida, una manta cómoda, un acuario de colores intensos para mirar, el olor de las flores o la lluvia primaveral, melodías agradables que provienen de sus estéreos, y así sucesivamente. Algunos incluso podrían decir que viven a través de sus sentidos más que la mayoría.

Cuando trabajas, trabajas duro. Lo haces con una constancia que rara vez puede considerarse rápida, más bien, es un esfuerzo confiable, laborioso y constante que tiene sus recompensas. La seguridad es inmensamente importante para ti: algunos Tauro buscan activamente la riqueza, mientras que otros se contentan con estar "cómodos". La definición de Tauro de "cómodo" puede no ser exactamente la misma que el resto de los signos, pero la comodidad es una fuerza impulsora.

Aunque es trabajador, su naturaleza fija y amante de la comodidad a veces lo hace parecer perezoso. Esto se debe solo a que separas el trabajo y el ocio de manera tan experta. Cuando trabajas, trabajas duro, y cuando juegas, en realidad no "juegas" como tal... Te relajas. Un Tauro Solar que ha levantado los pies está arraigado allí, otros estarían en apuros para hacer que te muevas. A nivel mental, es probable que las personas que te rodean tengan el mismo problema. Los Tauro se apegan a las cosas y a las ideas, y ahí radica una de las razones por las que son conocidos por su terquedad. Tauro es un signo fijo, y con tu Sol de Tauro, hay una buena dosis de tradición y firmeza en tu maquillaje que te mantiene arraigado.

La posesividad asociada con Tauro aparece en todas las áreas de la vida de alguna manera. A Tauro le gusta poseer cosas (y a veces personas, en cierto sentido). Una bonita casa, un terreno (puede ser modesto), un coche de pago, ese acuario mencionado antes, un par de mascotas, tal vez un negocio estable... En el amor y las relaciones, hay un tipo terrenal de posesividad que puede ser considerada celos por algunos, pero en realidad hay una gran diferencia entre ser posesivo y ser celoso. Los nativos de Tauro rara vez son celosos y mezquinos. Sin embargo, es posible que pienses en las personas que amas como tuyas, lo que aumenta tu sensación de seguridad.

Te sientes realizado cuando construyes algo sólido que perdura en el tiempo. Si bien puede ser lento para comenzar, una vez que gana impulso, su fuerza y vitalidad se vuelven evidentes. Su memoria es retentiva. Preferirías que las instrucciones te sean mostradas en lugar de verbalizarlas. Eres amante de la naturaleza y te sientes cómodo con las actividades terrenales. Si bien generalmente eres confiable y consistente, presta atención a la tendencia a quedarte con algo que ya no te sirve.

Su signo solar se modifica por varios factores, incluidos los aspectos que hace con otros planetas y puntos, la posición de su casa, la casa con el signo que gobierna el Sol (Leo) en su cúspide y su signo de Venus ya que Venus es el regente planetario de Tauro. Estas posiciones añaden más capas al Sol en la interpretación de Tauro. Tauro es un signo de Tierra Fijo. Más sobre Tauro.

Ascendente en Cáncer 19° 06' 09"

El Ascendente define, en parte, la primera impresión que causamos a los demás en un sentido personal más que profesional. Representa nuestra apariencia física, nuestro cuerpo físico y nuestra salud en general, y el ego del cuerpo. Puede ser la máscara o el disfraz que usamos para saludar al mundo. Revela nuestros mecanismos de defensa naturales y personales que utilizamos para adaptarnos a nuestro entorno y hacer frente a él. El Ascendente también muestra nuestras primeras impresiones del mundo que nos rodea y nuestras expectativas del mismo, ya sea que seamos naturalmente vacilantes o entusiastas, por ejemplo. La forma en que comenzamos nuevos proyectos y nuestra actitud hacia las nuevas experiencias caen bajo el dominio del Ascendente.

Con un Ascendente en Cáncer, es probable que parezcas una criatura gentil. Hay algo familiar en ti, al menos pareces ser el chico o la chica de al lado. Cuando entras en una habitación, no entras con un gran chapoteo. En su lugar, te mueves hacia los lados y te abres camino hacia adentro. Es posible que las personas que no conoces a menudo te vean como familiar. Debido a que eres bastante sensible a tu entorno, puedes ponerte nervioso fácilmente, especialmente en público.

Eres extremadamente sensible al entorno emocional y a la atmósfera que te rodea. Rodéate de personas que te apoyen, pero trata de salir de tu zona de confort de vez en cuando para que aprendas que puedes hacerlo con buenos resultados. La confianza se construye de manera lenta pero segura de esta manera. A veces, te pones un exterior duro para que no se aprovechen de ti o no te den por sentado. Desafortunadamente, hay personas que se aprovecharán de tu amabilidad, ¡pero construir un muro también puede bloquear a las personas respetuosas!

Cuando eras niño, es posible que te hayan etiquetado como el sensible, el emocional o el malhumorado. Para algunas personas con este Ascendente, hubo mimos adicionales en su infancia, lo que también puede afectar la vida adulta. La seguridad y la protección son fuerzas impulsoras, y su necesidad de estas cosas juega un papel importante en su reacción a nuevas experiencias. Te acercas a nuevas situaciones y personas con cierto nivel de precaución. Definitivamente te das cuenta una vez que te sientes seguro, pero ir a lo seguro a veces puede limitar tus experiencias.

Puedes tener un maravilloso sentido del humor y tus observaciones son verdaderos tesoros. Ves el mundo de una manera única y hermosa, y a la gente le encanta cuando compartes tu punto de vista. Cuando estás feliz y comprometido, a menudo se te puede describir como cálido, divertido y dulce.

La Luna tiene una influencia más fuerte en tu carta que la mayoría. Fíjate en la condición y la ubicación de la Luna por signo, casa y aspecto para obtener más refinamientos de la personalidad que proyectas a los demás, tus mecanismos de defensa y las formas en que te acercas al mundo que te rodea.

Your first instinct, when threatened or on unfamiliar ground, is to protect yourself! When new situations present themselves, your first instinct may be to withdraw immediately. You may very well come across as shy, but more often than not, caring. You seem quite sweet — even innocent. You appear unassuming enough to be quite approachable. Some Cancer Ascendants, however, have retreated into themselves so much as to be quite the opposite. Most are delightfully loyal and genuinely kind-hearted.

Since Capricorn is the sign on the Descendant, Cancer Ascendant people are looking for structure and security in their partner and their relationship. You might function best when your partner displays strength, financial and emotional stability, and know-how. In fact, you may very well prefer it when a relationship has clear rules. Security is the primary need, and you are more than willing to give up some personal freedom to get it. In some cases, Cancer Ascendant people can surprise their partners. Why? Because they come across as rather unassuming, family-oriented people. When it comes to partnership, they have a rather matter-of-fact, practical approach. More on Cancer Rising.

Moon in Taurus 1° 39' 05"

The Moon in the signs reveals much about our habits, reactions, and instincts. It shows how we express and deal with our emotions. Most obvious in our homes or in private, our Moon sign reveals our innermost needs. The Moon can represent our experience of nurturing; it also shows how we nurture ourselves! It's important to note that Moon signs change every 2 or 2-1/2 days, and on some days, can be one of two signs, in which case an accurate birth time is necessary.

You have the Moon in the sign of Taurus in your natal chart, and familiarity is vital to Lunar Taureans. You are earthy and strong-willed. You feel with your senses, and you are pretty much rooted in your ways. You may very well revel in material comforts—in fact, building a stable and comfortable home and foundation helps to keep you feeling safe and content.

It isn't wise to try to push you into doing anything, as you tend to dig in your heels if you're rushed or dominated, but once you've committed, you're remarkably persevering.

There's a steadiness to this position of the Moon that is comforting to people close to you. But there is also a conservative streak in you that can be maddening to more progressive personalities. You tend to go out of your way to avoid messy or unpredictable situations, crises, and emotional displays. You'd rather focus on creating a reliable and secure life around you. In relationships, Lunar Taureans such as you may not easily recognize their partner's need for change, growth, or emotional stimulation. Staying on top of this tendency is essential.

Moon in Taurus natives are usually very romantic, although not typically in a flowery way. Instead, their affections are strong, deep, and unwavering, and they are sentimental and warm. Since Taurus is a practical Earth sign, the placement of the Moon in this sign suggests an ability to protect themselves and their own interests. They will rarely make a move without first determining that it is safe and that there's something in it for them! With your Moon in Taurus, you have a strong need for predictability in your home and family life, even if other aspects of your personality prompt you to seek out excitement in various other life departments.

Generally, you have reliable instincts. You can be very much tied to the physical world, and you're likely to have a particularly well-developed sense of smell. Sensual but simple pleasures delight you tremendously. In this way, you are wonderfully straightforward and easy to please.

Relationships for you are often quite enduring. Many Moon in Taurus people hang onto their mates longer than most, even in the face of severe conflict. Taurus is a fixed sign, so break-ups don't happen easily.

There is a serenity to you that others can find very calming. In fact, it takes a lot to really get to you. However, you do get off-center every once in a while. You are not the most adaptable of people when your own routine is interrupted, for example.

Many Lunar Taureans have a stubborn streak that keeps them rather resistant to change. Rarely are you a spontaneous sort unless there are many other factors in your chart pointing in that direction. Uncomfortable with surprises, you value stability. Your needs are robust but quite simple at the same time – you love the “good things” in life. The world of the five senses is all-important to you. Your love of stability and steadiness can make you somewhat of a slave to routine at times. However, you are loyal and capable, and this kind of stick-to-it energy is wonderful.

Mercury in Taurus 5° 29' 32"

What's your style of communication? How do you make decisions? How do you pick up, process, absorb, and exchange information? These questions are answered, in part, by Mercury's placement by sign in your natal chart. Someone may be an assertive Aries, but they could also have Mercury in Taurus, with a style of communication that's slower, patient, and not quite as spirited as one would expect from an Aries, as an example. Mercury refines the Sun sign, and it helps to define how we take in--and give out--information.

With Mercury in Taurus, you are a plodder. You might take your time arriving at a decision, but you get there. In fact, you are quite decisive, even stubborn with your opinions. Some may mistake the time you take over decisions for laziness, and there are indeed things you prefer not to ponder, but you do think the important things over, and often do so quite carefully.

You may be slow to start a new project, but you see it through to the end. Others may need to poke you a bit to get you going, however. You have much common sense at your disposal.

You rely on your senses when it comes to processing information. Smells, noises, and mood are all employed. Your communication style may, at times, be slow and measured. You have a deliberate way of talking, thinking, and planning.

There is a placid quality to your communication style - when you speak, you are usually not bubbling or scattered. As a result, others really listen to you, perhaps more than most. They take you seriously. The practicality of the sign of Taurus can manifest as a slightly sarcastic manner, although Mercury in Taurus people have an overall pleasing way of communicating. In fact, you can be quite funny with your "say it like it is" style.

Many people with this placement of Mercury have exceptionally pleasant voices. The down-to-earth quality of Taurus often shows up in the speech, so it's unlikely that your expression is flowery or affected. Instead, it's infused with a realistic tone that can be definite and authoritative.

When it comes to learning, you prefer demonstrations, concrete answers, and basic concepts. You handle repetitive tasks better than most. You learn best when you see real-world uses for the theories you're trying to absorb. Not that you wouldn't be able to comprehend the abstract--you simply process information better when you can personalize it (what use is it to me?) and attach it to the practical world. It's interesting to note that Taurus is a sign that naturally assesses things in terms of what they can do for them. With Mercury placed in the sign, information is processed, and either accepted or discarded, with this kind of "screening" process.

A well-developed sense of color, smell, and touch are characteristic of this position of Mercury. You're likely to have distinct and definitive tastes, and these revolve very much around the world of the five senses.

If the Sun Sign is in Aries or Gemini, you can come across as more bull-headed than you actually are. You have a no-nonsense approach to decision-making, and your ideas are often very practical and useful.

Venus in Aries 14° 17' 59"

How do you attract things, situations, and people into your life? Venus rules our sentiments, what we value, and the pleasure we take in life. Grace, charm, and beauty are all ruled by Venus. Through Venus, we learn about our tastes, preferences, artistic inclinations, and what makes us happy. We look to Venus in the natal chart to see how we approach relationships of the heart, as well as what gives us pleasure. We also turn to Venus to show how we spend our money, the types of gifts we buy, and how much we spend on leisure activities (not to mention the kinds of leisure activities we seek). Venus rules attractiveness--both the ability to attract and attraction to others (and things). Venus rules, amongst other things, the arts, love and romance, beauty and the beautifying process, money, entertainment, leisure, sensuality, and comfort. With Venus in Aries, you're straightforward in your romantic or social life. You flirt by being up-front, direct, and even daring. You try to win others over by expressing how enterprising and independent you are. Your style of expressing love can be maddeningly "me"-centered, but the right person for you will find this approach charming. People often enjoy your aura of innocent charm, even when you are acting a little childish or impatient.

You're likely to have a fun-loving manner in love. You're turned on by energy and activity. Turn-offs include a relationship that is considered stuffy or too "mature," vagueness, and beating around the bush. In love, you can be hopelessly addicted to the conquest. For a relationship to remain fresh and new, you require plenty of stimulation. You need to see some sparks flying! You're attracted to independent, dynamic people, or that's your own style when in pursuit of something (or someone) you want.

Pleasing you in love involves fueling your need for action. Others should be direct, open, and honest with you since you don't much like game-playing or evasiveness unless it is in the full spirit of fun. They'd do well to feed your need for spontaneity, appreciate your playfulness, and understand your desire for the relationship to remain young and fresh. Venus in Aries likes to take the lead in love (even if your Sun Sign is gentle Pisces). You have many whims, and you thrive on competition.

You don't necessarily take control, but you do instinctively take the lead in matters of the heart. You don't quickly adapt to others' feelings, however. You can be demanding in love, addicted to the chase or the intense passions of the moment. You love spontaneous expressions of affection and sexuality. You're enthusiastic and attractive and possess innocent or straightforward charm. You attract by being direct and not beating around the bush, preferring to get right to the point! Your attractions are quick and sometimes short-lived. You're ardent and often hard to resist! However, you can be a little blunt and abrupt at times.

Venus in Aries Personal Ad Bio: "I have a strong sense of adventure. I will win you over. I'm self-taught and self-sufficient."

With money, you can be an impulse buyer. You're attracted to new and innovative products but would do well to wait a few days before buying because the desire can pass quite quickly. Art that appeals to you is bold and active in tone.

Mars in Gemini 14° 36' 44"

Mars is the planet that rules our drive and passions. In the mutable air sign of Gemini, Mars in your chart is a little scattered and unfocused, but quite adept, adaptable, and bright. Easily bored, you may need a fresh change of pace frequently to keep energy levels up. It's a somewhat odd thing, really, but when there's nothing much to do, you're exhausted. However, if there's plenty of exciting things on your agenda, you're a powerhouse! More than most people, you have a physical reaction to boredom.

You have a passion for words, and when you get angry or fired up, you use words as your "weapon." Angry communications--some of the most incisive and sarcastic ones--can fly around for the more assertive or energetic types with this position. Others not as aggressively inclined talk things through--energetically! Whatever is the case for you, you seem to need to get everything off your chest when you're fired up.

In fact, debates are a Mars-in-Gemini specialty. You can readily draw on your sharp wit to win arguments. In general, you can be talkative, and perhaps very much so. If your natal chart shows more reserve, you seem to go in and out of talkativeness, becoming chatty when you're worked up or enthusiastic about something or the other. You prefer to use words rather than force. You may also prefer mental tasks to physical labor. You'd make an exceptional teacher of topics you love.

You can be quite skilled at communicating, whether in your speech or writing, or both. There is a colorful, animated, or enthusiastic quality to your communications, although you can be moody or your verbosity is cyclical. You're clever and a quick learner, but you don't always have the patience to go very deeply into specific subjects. Your skills are many, and you can be very resourceful. Your output is variable, as you can work at lightning speed when inspired and move on to something else when bored. You're given to short bursts of activity. This Mars placement is the position of the multi-tasker.

Some people with this position of Mars are quite fidgety. They have much nervous energy. In general, their nervousness and restlessness are at the root of many physical ups and downs. When they're on edge, they can be nitpicky. Many Mars in Gemini natives channel their energy through their hands. Gemini, after all, rules the hands; and these people often express energy through musical instruments, crafts, video games, and the like. Many are attracted to puzzles and games as diversions—and they're quite skilled at them!

With Mars in Gemini, you can be very adaptable, often thriving on change. In a more conservative chart, this will show up on a mental level. You usually take up many projects at once, spreading yourself thin at times. Sustained interest is not especially the forte of this Mars placement—you'd need some helpful Saturn, Capricorn, and Taurus influences for follow-through, and if not, you'd benefit from attempting to focus your energies rather than scattering them. However, your versatility and disdain for routine generally mean you're busy and interesting. Your first instinct is to use your wit, words, social skills, and intelligence to achieve your desires and goals.

Jupiter in Aquarius 16° 26' 17"

Jupiter in Aquarius individuals like yourself attract the best fortune when they are tolerant and fair, inventive, impartial, and cooperative. You are at your best when you have freedom of choice, when you can break a few rules, and when you think outside of the box.

You value people and personal freedom most. You want to show a unique perspective or original and unique skills and talents. You are open to new methods and progress. You exhibit great tolerance and humanitarianism.

As an Air sign Jupiter, you are mentally adventurous, ready and willing to learn, into "mind expansion," and less attached to your values than others because you are generally quite impartial and open-minded. One of your many strengths is your ability to see many sides to an argument.

Saturn in Scorpio 24° 41' 30" R_x

Saturn in our charts shows where we limit ourselves due to fear or insecurity. With Saturn in Scorpio, you may feel uncomfortable expressing or identifying with your deeper, more irrational emotions such as jealousy. However, denying these things or their expression can limit you.

You may have a hard time admitting some of your emotional vulnerabilities or your desire for emotional intimacy, perhaps even to yourself! Opening yourself up completely can be challenging—it doesn't come naturally, but with work and effort, you can get there. There can be some tendency to brood or to go cold and silent if you expect others don't care enough about your feelings. However, it's essential to recognize that you can run hot and cold on this level—you may yearn for understanding and empathy, but you can feel uncomfortable if you get this attention! Trusting a confidant can be a challenge but also a genuine relief since you bottle up your feelings often to your detriment.

You may also need to work on your attitude towards change, transformation, and growth. A deep fear of change can keep you stagnating in situations that aren't good for you.

More clues and refinements to your Saturn lessons in life come through Saturn's house position and aspects.

Uranus in Sagittarius 16° 47' 47" R_x

You're most interested in making changes, innovating, and updating traditions related to beliefs, the seeking of meaning, freedom of speech and thought, philosophies, attitudes, religion, cultures, education, spirit, and vision. You seek more freedom in or through these areas, and you don't feel much need to conform! You may believe in breaking through some of the inhibitions or taboos related to preconceived ideas as well as current education and belief systems. Despite the need for progress, you can be very stubborn and set in your ways in these areas. You may challenge authority or rules and laws in place only if you feel they are limiting our progress, seeking to revolutionize the ways we view others, different cultures, and belief systems. You are optimistic and believe in progress and change, although you are not always as interested in the details of a particular pursuit as you are the big picture or vision. Since you believe in the power of inspiration, rote learning can be unappealing. You have an excellent feel for trends and work best on inspiration, impulse, and intuition.

Neptune in Capricorn 3° 09' 27" R_x

Your vision of an ideal world may center around respect for rules, order, responsibility, and morality. You need to believe in the realizability of your dreams, and this means that your fantasies usually have a very realistic thread to them. There is a conservative, possibly somewhat cynical element to your nature. Because a general optimism or faith do not typically carry or motivate you, energy levels may not be high when you don't believe in what you're doing, and inspiration is not easy to find in the first place. However, you can turn a dream into reality more than most. Your vision is practical but also doable.

Pluto in Scorpio 2° 42' 24" R_x

Your feelings about intimacy, sexuality, dependency, attachment, and support are intense. You can readily go to extremes as you seek a deeper connection to someone or a special project or goal. The quest to distinguish yourself in any of these areas can be so fraught with pressure at times that you rarely allow yourself to feel content and satisfied. You may need to work harder than most to let yourself to be anything less than strong. You are not afraid to call evil for what it is. You are a rare combination of compassionate and practical. With Pluto working at its best, you are brilliantly perceptive and understanding—quick to see the many different layers of any given situation.

Chiron in Gemini 7° 49' 40"

You believe in the power of the mind and the concept of "mind over matter," as well as the power of conversation, expressing oneself unapologetically, and so forth, but you don't always practice this yourself. In fact, you can either speak too much or too little, or more likely, swing between these two extremes, never feeling entirely comfortable talking, feeling guilty for saying too much or too little, and questioning whether you represented yourself accurately. You're quick to help others with information and advice, and very skilled at it. Most importantly, your desire to help is genuine.

You may have felt shame for displaying assertive traits, for taking the lead without asking, or for making self-centered choices. You might harbor some fear of taking the lead, asserting yourself, and making executive decisions. Learning to accept this side of yourself and integrating these rejected qualities in palatable, small ways can be empowering and rewarding.

North Node in Taurus 18° 13' 54"

The theory behind the Nodes of the Moon (the North Node and South Node) suggests that we all come into this world with some underdeveloped and overdeveloped aspects of our character. The Nodes of the Moon point us to these specific qualities: the South Node represents our overdeveloped character traits that we automatically fall back upon. We're talented here, but if we overdo this area of life or hold onto these traits to feel secure, we may undermine our lives or prevent growth. On the other hand, the North Node suggests the qualities that we need to work on and develop to achieve inner balance.

With your North Node in Taurus, your South Node is naturally in Scorpio.

This position can point to a tendency to define your worth and value in terms of your significant others, to be wrapped up in the needs of others at the expense of your own needs, and to attract confusing and intense life situations at the cost of comfort and peace. Your path is to discover and embrace your own values, to depend on yourself and to establish your self-worth through your own efforts, and to enjoy life's more quiet moments without the subconscious need to create crises. Watch for a tendency to invest too much time and energy into supporting others, and focus on some level of independence so that you can bring back more balance to your life.

Part of Fortune in Gemini 24° 07' 22"

You might discover that success comes more readily for you when you open yourself to information, are flexible and adaptable, and connect with others. Light, casual interactions and discussions can lead to incredible ideas, and they can also boost your joy and fortune. Putting your feelers out for information works to your benefit. As you cultivate a philosophy that things naturally change, move, and evolve, you adapt well to circumstances, and success comes more readily.

Ventures that make use of communicative, verbal, or dexterity skills can be most rewarding. Prosperous areas include teaching, transportation, messaging, and communications. Look to Mercury, planetary ruler of Gemini, for more clues to where and how you improve your lot in life.

Vertex in Aquarius 25° 24' 16"

Midheaven in Taurus 6° 51' 48"

You seek stability and predictability in your professional or public life. These areas of life tend to be slow to unfold or develop, but they're steady and strong. You are a hard worker, often preferring to plod along steadily than to face challenges or innovation. You're resourceful and possess lots of common sense in your profession. Preferring to learn your trade thoroughly and carefully, you are the one who others can count on.

Harmony and peacefulness are vital for you in any career--uncertainty is not your cup of tea. You're not one to push for change if things are working decently. In fact, you're inclined to keep the status quo perhaps a little longer than is good for you at times.

With your reputation, public matters, and life path goals, you're sensible, practical, and consistent. You prefer to come across smoothly.

Planets and Points in The Houses

Sun in Tenth House

The Sun's house position modifies and refines its position by zodiac sign. With the Sun in your tenth house, the urge to work toward a goal, for success and accomplishment, and/or for power is an essential part of your makeup. You are uncomfortable in any position in which you must "take orders" from someone else, although if it furthers your own goals to do so, you'll do your best in this role. Recognize your ambitions and your need for authority without going overboard. Seek out a career that allows you to manage, rather than be managed, if possible. It is crucial that you accept the part of you that is ambitious, but take pains not to over-identify with an image that is not really you! There is undoubtedly a very responsible, goal-oriented side to you. It's natural for you to work your way up the ladder. Your strong, determined personality is often well-received, although there can be friction with other strong personalities from time to time.

Moon in Ninth House

The Moon in the houses can reveal where and how we go about seeking emotional satisfaction. If it's an issue, we can discover vital clues to the reason for perpetual emotional unrest through the study of the house position of the Moon, and these can manifest as constant changes or ups and downs in the areas of life ruled by the house. It is in these areas that we should aim to make deep attachments rather than chase superficial and temporary emotional thrills if we are seeking out a genuine feeling of belonging and emotional fulfillment. It's important to note that house positions are quite sensitive to birth times.

This is a position that can indicate a deep longing for stimulation above and beyond the everyday, mundane routine. With the Moon in your ninth house, you may be a philosophical sort, interested in and curious about the world, other people, and perhaps different cultures. You can be extraordinarily restless and discontented if you don't have a definite goal in mind.

You might find yourself longing to be somewhere else when you are unhappy, imagining that if you were to move or travel, you would be much more satisfied. However, this attitude may keep you from enjoying and improving upon the situation you are now in, only serving to make you feel more unhappy in the present and with your current circumstances. Trying to avoid the attitude that "the grass is greener on the other side" will be important in your life, while attending to your needs to get away from time to time will help scratch the seemingly incurable itch for something more! Many people with this position feel they thrive best away from the early neighborhood or in places where they can break free of the bonds of childhood conditioning.

The desire to start fresh, change the scenery, and enjoy a break from routine is often very strong! On an emotional level, you are somewhat of a vagabond or wanderer, and you can make yourself at home in almost any setting. You are always seeking to grow, learn, improve, and gain perspective, and this may be the reason behind the frequent desire to be on the move or to break free of habits or routines. You have a distinctly spiritual side to your nature that is vastly important to you and your sense of security, and you may embrace the idea of a guide, mentor, or guardian angel. Your understanding of the world and human nature is intuitive and natural.

Mercury in Ninth House

With Mercury in the ninth house, you are eternally curious, and you hunger for knowledge. You enjoy studying and learning, not because you have to, but because you want to. You enjoy exchanging ideas and personal philosophies with others. You are exceptionally buoyant, enthusiastic, and even inspiring in your communications. While you may not pay enough attention to details at times, you are skilled at finding a quick solution to problems. You readily see the bigger picture and enjoy sharing your opinions and ideas. You get off on how information affects people's lives, and you take great pleasure in learning that something you have shared or taught has inspired others to take action, experience something new, or make changes in their lives. A potential flaw when Mercury is challenged here is to be too quick to offer advice that might be lacking in thoroughness and practicality, or that you yourself don't follow. Or, your enthusiasm can lead you to make quick statements before you've had time to check the facts, saying "yes" before you truly know that it's a go.

You may be especially interested in learning about different cultures and lands. You are intuitive in your thinking, believing strongly that you'll get to the truth through instincts and visions faster and more accurately than you would if you used a more structured approach. You are a lively conversationalist.

These traits are Mercury in the ninth house in pure form and are modified by Mercury's sign and aspects. [Note that house positions are highly dependent on birth time.]

NOTE: Since Mercury is very close to the next house cusp, the next item is also relevant.

Mercury in Tenth House

You are good with language, and you're likely to use this talent in your profession. You can have an authoritative air about you, or you are talented at communicating and negotiating with those in authority. You might have more than one job going at once much of the time, you could change your career directions frequently, or you could be attracted to jobs that keep you on the move. You enjoy frequent changes of setting or activities in order to remain stimulated and challenged, but you're also fully capable of a structured approach to your work. In fact, feeling secure about what you're doing is most important to you, as you feel incredibly uncomfortable with things you don't know well. You abhor being taken off guard and will go out of your way to avoid such situations. You are skilled at bringing fresh energy to your conversations or to your job, perhaps because you thrive on the stimulation.

These traits are Mercury in the tenth house in pure form and are modified by Mercury's sign and aspects. [Note that house positions are highly dependent on birth time.]

Venus in Ninth House

With Venus in the ninth house of your chart, you crave a bit of excitement, and you're attracted to new experiences and things. You have a distinctly spiritual side to you, no matter how earthy or practical other considerations may be in your chart. You are a very inspired and inspiring person who's enthusiastic and ready and willing to share your insights with others. In fact, you love to share good news or great ideas, and you enjoy bringing out the best in others. You are attracted to, or you tend to attract, people of different cultural backgrounds or those who have a sense of adventure. You are not especially clingy, and you expect a certain amount of freedom in a partnership. You want to feel like you are growing as an individual, and you're unlikely to be happy in a relationship that is restrictive or confining. In fact, you have a great love for a feeling of freedom or limitlessness. Your hips and thighs may be especially attractive!

You appreciate a lover who is enthusiastic and not afraid to have a good time (with you!). You aspire to high ideals in love. Some of you might pursue sensations in love rather than true or deep feelings and attachment. Beware of a tendency for dissatisfaction with what you have, as the tendency to think that the "grass is greener" elsewhere can keep you from enjoying or developing what you have.

Mars in Eleventh House

With Mars in the 11th house of your natal chart, you like to organize events and activities, and sometimes take the lead a little too often! However, for the most part, you're an engaging, helpful friend who is ready to jump in and take action when need be, and this is a wonderful, rare quality. Your mind needs to be engaged in order for you to be at your most passionate, and for this reason, you can seem a little detached or impersonal in close personal relationships. You're not afraid to be different or to march to the beat of a different drummer. You're likely to enjoy working towards an important cause, and you can be quite a crusader! You may be attracted to intense, passionate, or energetic people, and your friendships can be quite colorful and possibly strife-ridden at times.

Jupiter in Seventh House

Cultivating close, rewarding partnerships is important to you with Jupiter in the seventh house of your natal chart. You are talented at negotiations, believing strongly in fair play, and you are excellent at mediating conflicts. Legal matters may be fortunate for you. You value people and relationships, and you may very well succeed best in partnership. Relating as equals is important to you. You naturally use charm and grace to reach your goals. You tend to expect the best from others, which can sometimes lead to disappointments, but you are highly resilient.

Saturn in Fourth House

With Saturn in the fourth house of your birth chart, your roots, family life, home, and nurturing are serious matters for you. Stability and security are vital to you, and you'll work hard to achieve these things.

This placement often occurs in the charts of those who don't readily move or move far from where they were born. Psychologically, there can be issues with feeling tied down or stuck in a rut. Success in your personal life tends to improve with time and age.

This position, if challenged, is associated with anxiety and eating or digestive disorders. Something in your early experiences gave you the idea that you should keep your feelings in or deprive yourself of fundamentals, and you could struggle with rigidity. If you dealt with too much responsibility, coolness, strictness, or ultra-conservative energy in your early life, over time, you might work on managing deep fears of not being loved or approved of. Building your ability to nurture and self-nurture comes more naturally as you go along. Another important lesson to learn revolves around making changes rather than sticking with what's familiar. Teaching yourself to open up to change can involve making small efforts to step out of your comfort zone.

The desire to build something long-lasting, such as a legacy, can be strong. This is not just a passing whim, but a deep-seated drive within you. Owning a home or land can be a goal, and you have the potential to achieve it. You prefer to prepare for the long term and old age, and your careful planning can lead to a fulfilling and successful life. You can be well-suited to various fields, such as construction, counseling, anthropology, archaeology, manufacturing, and real estate work, where you can make a significant impact.

It can be powerful to work on your deep-rooted insecurities, which stem from feelings of a lack of support or of being burdened, isolated, short-changed, neglected, or misunderstood. Addressing your tendencies in later life to isolate or deprive yourself can be very worthwhile. Breaking down walls can be a powerful process as you mature. You'll likely go above and beyond to create a safe space and successful life for yourself and your loved ones.

Uranus in Fifth House

With Uranus in the fifth house of your natal chart, your tastes in pleasure, love, recreation, and hobbies are not just unique, but truly one-of-a-kind. You don't follow the crowd, but instead, your creativity is a reflection of your intuition, leading to a fascinating array of interests. You are a true reformer and innovator, especially in entertainment, romance, leisure, children, and self-expression, but also in life itself. You seek more freedom in these areas, and you don't feel much need to conform! You believe in breaking through inhibitions or taboos, especially with dating, self-expression, drama, and personal identity, standing out as a beacon of unique and individual expression.

Despite the need for progress, you can be very stubborn and set in your ways in these areas. You may challenge authority or rules and laws in place if you feel they limit you. It's possible you want to awaken others to new thinking in these areas, but you can also be quite content with going your own way. Your thinking is brilliant, illuminating the path of parenting, managing, and creating. Not one to follow trends, you prefer to make them. You answer to your intuition and creative impulses, fully aware that you can't schedule these things! With discipline, you can go far. Otherwise, you may be a little scattered. Your ideas about love, dating, romance, and attraction are off the beaten track and uniquely yours.

Your romantic experiences can be sudden, impulsive, thrilling, and full of unexpected twists. Instead, you could be attracted to people who are Uranian in nature--aloof, different, unpredictable, or rebellious. Unexpected love and attraction can be themes in your life. Similarly, your creativity is highly unique, intuitive, and full of surprises. This placement often occurs in charts of people with musical and writing talent and interest. There can be an attraction to some risk-taking or gambling, as you seek to add a dash of excitement to your life.

Neptune in Sixth House

With Neptune in the sixth house, you may easily gloss over the details of managing day-to-day affairs. Perhaps you've adopted a personal philosophy that life means more than just sticking to routines, making lists, and organizing bills to pay. However, avoiding or ignoring these essential responsibilities can lead to much confusion and chaos, as well as guilt. You might give in to co-workers too easily, or not take credit for your own hard work. You could have inflated ideals regarding being helpful to others. You want to help others unconditionally, but if you don't draw some lines and boundaries, you could feel put upon. Or, you could feel helpless when it comes to managing your daily affairs or work, and often depend on others to save you from these tasks. On the level of health, you might have mysterious health complaints that are hard to diagnose, sensitivity to drugs, or allergies. These might be related to the aforementioned guilt. You can have a keen interest in alternative health methods. Some of you can be especially compassionate with animals and pets.

Pluto in Third House

You rarely accept what you hear or read as the truth. Your mind is very analytical, and you instinctively search for hidden meanings. You can be exceptionally persuasive in the way you express yourself, whether through the spoken or written word, primarily because you communicate with authority, conviction, strength, and decisiveness. You tend to learn through observation rather than by asking questions. In fact, you can be quite resistant to learning directly from others, preferring to be self-taught. You might fear the loss of self through self-expression, and thus you might choose your words carefully as to avoid letting others know too much about you.

Chiron in Eleventh House

With Chiron in the eleventh house of your natal chart, your sensitivity to your social connections and place in a group is not a limitation, but can lead to a perspective that enriches your life and the lives of those around you. Your experiences in these areas build your empathy, and your unique viewpoint is invaluable.

You believe in people and the power of the group. You're a steadfast humanitarian who champions individuality. You are fantastic at encouraging others to march to the beat of their own drum. Even so, you might often feel disconnected or self-conscious in a group setting or with friends, as if you don't truly belong. You are especially sensitive to your place in the group or community, and this is where you become wise. Your gift of understanding lies here, but it's also where you can feel quite insecure—as if you are never doing enough. Watch for over-compensating, feeding a bottomless well. Self-honesty regarding your wounds or vulnerabilities in these life departments is key to your powerful life story and journey.

You don't regard or experience friendships, socializing, and networking the same as others, which tends to set you apart. Your friends are eclectic, and you often gravitate to unconventional or underdog types. People value you as an entirely unique friend. You love unusual ideas, causes, and inventions. Learning to trust yourself and your dreams is empowering as you discover that easing up on an intense quest to find out where you belong helps you to do just that.

Black Moon Lilith in Ninth House

North Node in Tenth House

The theory behind the Nodes of the Moon (the North Node and South Node) suggests that we all come into this world with some underdeveloped and overdeveloped aspects of our character. The Nodes of the Moon point us to these specific qualities: the South Node represents our overdeveloped character traits that we automatically fall back upon. We're talented here, but if we overdo this area of life or hold onto these traits to feel secure, we may undermine our lives or prevent growth. On the other hand, the North Node suggests the qualities that we need to work on and develop to achieve inner balance.

With your North Node in the tenth house, your South Node is naturally in the fourth house.

You are warm, nurturing, and a natural homebody. Your path, however, is to take more responsibility, be thorough, put yourself out there more often, express yourself independently, embrace your ambitions, or take on a responsible role in the outside world. Allow yourself to be an authority or a guide, or to mature and grow up, even if it takes you out of your comfort zone, and you're likely to feel considerably more fulfilled and whole.

Part of Fortune in Eleventh House

NOTE: Since Part of Fortune is very close to the next house cusp, the next item is also relevant.

Part of Fortune in Twelfth House

Vertex in Seventh House

In your life, you are learning the art of diplomacy, compromise, and negotiation. Fateful experiences are possible that put you in a unique position to negotiate, make peace, counsel, and cooperate. Great lessons and turning points in your life can result from unforeseen partnerships or one-to-one meetings.

Aspects

Sun Opposition Saturn (orb 1°56')

With the Sun opposite Saturn in your natal chart, fear of making a mistake or a spectacle of yourself can prevent you from enjoying the spotlight or putting yourself out there. Feeling restricted on an ego level is a theme that you might struggle with, especially early in life. However, you can also learn to manage and work with this energy.

Some of the most important "work" you will do in your lifetime is learning to know who you are and what you truly want from life, free from the shackles of limiting expectations or defense mechanisms you've taken on as a result of early conditioning, judgment, and criticism. You'll also recognize where you may have adopted the judgmental qualities that so limited your own growth and work to free yourself from them.

Something else to watch for: pride that limits your experiences. You might miss out on happiness and pleasure because you don't want to concede or compromise.

Your sense of duty and responsibility is highly developed and can be a powerful asset, but like any strength, it can also work against you if taken too far. When balanced, it equips you with organization, thoroughness, determination, practicality, and morality. You possess an incredible drive to achieve something significant. And with your unique ability to separate the practical aspects of life from the emotional, you can accomplish a great deal.

Some possible Sun-Saturn associations include facing more obstacles or blocks than average; May-December relationships, issues with the immune system or slow but steady recuperative powers, fears of being wrong, issues with the bones/teeth and circulation, low vitamin D/lack of sunshine, arthritis.

Moon Conjunction Mercury (orb 3°50')

Moon Trine Neptune (orb 1°30')

Moon Opposition Pluto (orb 1°3')

Moon Conjunction Midheaven (orb 5°13')

Mercury Trine Neptune (orb 2°20')

You are creative, perceptive, and imaginative. You draw heavily on your imagination and intuition to come to conclusions and make decisions. Readily sensing the thoughts and feelings of others, you are adaptable in your communications as you pay attention to how your words are received.

With Mercury in harmony with Neptune in your natal chart, you express yourself with subtle flair, sensitivity, and perhaps some charming quirkiness.

You have an appreciation, and perhaps talent, for photography, the arts, poetry, fiction, spirituality, advertising, and promotion. You are naturally open to metaphysical or spiritual concepts. You might believe in things that others discard, and some with this position at least seem a little naive or childlike. Many with this position have psychic abilities or very good hunches.

Mercury Opposition Pluto (orb 2°47')

Mercury Conjunction Midheaven (orb 1°22')

Venus Sextile Mars (orb 0°19')

Venus Sextile Jupiter (orb 2°8')

Venus Trine Uranus (orb 2°30')

Venus Square Ascendant (orb 4°48')

Mars Trine Jupiter (orb 1°50')

Mars trine Jupiter in your natal chart adds a solid layer of energy, sincerity, frankness, a sense of adventure, and a love of life to your personality. Full of dynamism, you enjoy a challenge or healthy competition. With your great love of life, you want to take it all in and enjoy what life offers. You're fundamentally optimistic and have a can-do attitude that brings success on professional and personal levels. This is a fertile, jovial, and positive combination.

Mars-Jupiter harmonious aspects are also good for the sense of timing and organization. You naturally take the lead. You're motivated but also talented at motivating others. Travel, politics, and sports can be strong draws.

Truth, honesty, and directness are essential to you. You prefer to give people and situations the benefit of the doubt first until proven otherwise. You have innate faith in yourself and the world, and you're generally fair-minded, just, protective, and energetic.

Possessing great initiative, you are enterprising, upbeat, dynamic, and innovative. Although you're often ready to take on a new challenge, this aspect alone doesn't provide you with the drive to push ahead--other aspects (usually hard ones) in your chart can supply the ambition to apply yourself. People with Mars and Jupiter in harmony are not so much success-oriented as they are optimistic and interested in gaining new and different experiences.

This aspect gives you a lucky streak, largely due to your faith in your vision. Your spirit is generous and enthusiastic. Truth and justice are fundamental to you, and you have a strong desire to act on your beliefs and principles. In fact, you're inclined to do most things in big ways.

Mars Opposition Uranus (orb 2°11')

You prefer to stand out in a crowd than to follow. Even if your fundamental personality is introspective, you naturally do stand out.

Watch for a tendency to be stubborn or dogmatic, which can impede your progress in life and cause unnecessary delays or obstacles. You can be temperamental, but you tend to get over things quickly.

While you're in touch with your needs and character, being hasty, impatient, and impulsive can lead to unnecessary struggles. This combination can indicate eccentricity, nervousness, or ups and downs with energy, desires, and motivation. Fussiness or irritability is marked when you're upset.

You don't do well with schedules, especially those imposed upon you, but often, not even those you create for yourself! You can have great disdain for certain formalities and social niceties or maneuvering.

It's best to watch for abrupt, rebellious moves since they don't always serve you well. Consider that impulses to take sudden risks may be self-sabotage. With time and maturity, you recognize the value of developing more patience and humility.

You can be notably original, headstrong, rebellious, and contradictory. You are independent and individualistic. Inventing, designing, and pioneering are your strengths.

You could experience this Mars-Uranus energy in an externalized way through unusual or frequent attacks on your character.

Jupiter Sextile Uranus (orb 0°22')

With Jupiter forming a sextile to Uranus in your birth chart, you have faith in the future, trust your visions, and welcome change and innovation if you expect it will improve your life. New methods and innovations intrigue you. You enjoy being a step ahead of others with your ideas, projects, or knowledge. You also prefer to explore life rather spontaneously. Although you're not averse to some instruction or direction, you want to leave some room for discovery and exploration.

You are quick to imagine possibilities where others see dead ends, and your optimism is commendable. Your sincerity and openness are distinctive. This aspect helps you detach from traditions or customs that feel restrictive. Your ideas, beliefs, worldview, and opinions are somewhat unconventional.

Jupiter Square North Node (orb 1°48')

With Jupiter forming a square to the North Node of the Moon, your social views and values don't always mesh with current thought. You are an individualist, unafraid of going against the grain. Additionally, you are not fond of social niceties, preferring to say it like it is.

However, it would be best if you watched for glossing over important details. It's relatively easy for you to jump to conclusions. You also seem to attract life lessons, often through conflict or jarring events.

You're an individualistic and free thinker, and you can be quarrelsome. Frequent conflicts due to disharmonious ideas or values are possible in your lifetime. You might also have more problems than most with social institutions.

- Tenga paciencia al ingresar su ciudad de nacimiento para permitir que el programa llame a la lista de ubicaciones, ya que a veces no es instantáneo. Si simplemente no está obteniendo resultados y no puede enviarlos, puede ser que el atlas esté ocupado (GeoNames tiene ciertos límites por hora y por día). En este caso, puedes usar esta misma herramienta en mi sitio hermano, Astrology Cafe aquí.

- Es importante introducir solo el nombre de la ciudad o las primeras letras de la ciudad en el campo Ciudad de nacimiento, no el país o el estado/provincia/región. Por ejemplo, si naciste en Fuzhou, Fujian, China, debes escribir "fuzhou" o similar y no "fujian" o "china". Es mejor no escribir demasiado: para obtener mejores resultados, escriba el nombre de la CIUDAD y desplácese por la lista para encontrar la ciudad correcta.
- *Importante: En circunstancias normales, no es necesario cambiar el desplazamiento de la zona horaria. No ajuste el desplazamiento de la zona horaria a menos que sepa con certeza lo que está haciendo, ya que los desplazamientos predeterminados incorporan factores cruciales (como el horario de verano) y, en la mayoría de los casos, son precisos para los nacimientos posteriores a 1970. Sin embargo, hay algunas discrepancias en todos los atlas de zonas horarias históricas, especialmente para los años de nacimiento anteriores a 1970, por lo que si necesita ayuda con el valor de desplazamiento de zona horaria, envíe un correo electrónico a reports@cafeastrology.com. Asegúrate de mencionar el motivo por el que escribes e incluye los datos completos del nacimiento.  Tenga en cuenta que el atlas de este software no es tan exigente con las zonas horarias históricas (antes de los nacimientos de 1970) como el atlas de nuestra sección de informes gratuitos, pero es excelente para las zonas horarias posteriores a 1970. Siempre es una buena idea verificar las fechas más antiguas, ya que los cambios de zona horaria, especialmente con respecto al horario de verano, eran erráticos en algunas áreas y no estaban bien documentados.
- I have received many emails from people who feel they should be changing the +/- value of the time zone offset number, quoting time converter formulas. Doing so will give you incorrect results. Please see the FAQ here for the reasons not to change the +/- value. Bottom line: astrology software converts local time to UT and not vice versa, and the +/- values produced by this software are correct.
- Note: if there is an error in the Geonames atlas service (that is, if the service cannot find the time zone temporarily), the UTC offset will state "false" instead of a numerical value. Before pressing Submit, please change "false" to the appropriate time zone numeral. If you need help with determining this number, write to reports@cafeastrology.com.

Do you prefer Whole Sign houses? If so, you can create your free natal chart report with Whole Sign houses here. We also have a birth chart generator that draws the chart using Koch houses and using Equal houses.

You can also produce a free chart wheel with a list of planetary positions only \(without the interpretations\).

See also Cafe Astrology's Free Reports site, including full interpretations of the natal chart, transits, and compatibility.

Note about house systems: If you're new to astrology, simply stick with the Placidus house system on this page and later in your studies, you can explore different house systems. Mind you, many astrologers do end up sticking with Placidus after further study. Using Placidus is not a sign of an unevolved astrologer, in other words, as some will have you believe!
